

H-1B Reform: Fix the Real Problems, Instead of Scapegoating the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of California at Davis

The Changing Face of Immigration
UC Berkeley, November 16, 2011

Slides at <http://heather.cs.ucdavis.edu/UCB2011.pdf> (see last slide).

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.
- The mainstream U.S. firms say, “It’s not us, it’s the Indian firms!”

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.
- The mainstream U.S. firms say, “It’s not us, it’s the Indian firms!”
- Clever PR ploy, but the data shows it false

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.
- The mainstream U.S. firms say, “It’s not us, it’s the Indian firms!”
- Clever PR ploy, but the data shows it false —the abuse is across the board, including the mainstream U..S. firms.

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.
- The mainstream U.S. firms say, “It’s not us, it’s the Indian firms!”
- Clever PR ploy, but the data shows it false —the abuse is across the board, including the mainstream U.S. firms.
- Sen. Schumer, Rep. Lofgren etc. have introduced “reform” bills that scapegoat the Indians

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.
- The mainstream U.S. firms say, “It’s not us, it’s the Indian firms!”
- Clever PR ploy, but the data shows it false —the abuse is across the board, including the mainstream U.S. firms.
- Sen. Schumer, Rep. Lofgren etc. have introduced “reform” bills that scapegoat the Indians and fail to fix the real problems, the loopholes.

Overview

- There is no tech labor shortage (wages flat, etc.).
- H-1B work visa, employer-sponsored green card programs typically used for cheap labor.
- This abuse is legal, due to loopholes—NOT an enforcement issue.
- The mainstream U.S. firms say, “It’s not us, it’s the Indian firms!”
- Clever PR ploy, but the data shows it false —the abuse is across the board, including the mainstream U.S. firms.
- Sen. Schumer, Rep. Lofgren etc. have introduced “reform” bills that scapegoat the Indians and fail to fix the real problems, the loopholes.
- What, then, SHOULD be done?

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Journalists Beware!

Industry lobbyists deftly exploit popular images:

Journalists Beware!

Industry lobbyists deftly exploit popular images:

- “U.S. tech industry—America’s last bastion of power.”

Journalists Beware!

Industry lobbyists deftly exploit popular images:

- “U.S. tech industry—America’s last bastion of power.”
- “Wow, those software developers must be geniuses!”

Journalists Beware!

Industry lobbyists deftly exploit popular images:

- “U.S. tech industry—America’s last bastion of power.”
- “Wow, those software developers must be geniuses!”
- “Johnnie can’t do math, but Jia Ni can!”

Journalists Beware!

Industry lobbyists deftly exploit popular images:

- “U.S. tech industry—America’s last bastion of power.”
- “Wow, those software developers must be geniuses!”
- “Johnnie can’t do math, but Jia Ni can!”
- Negative stereotyping of Third World cultures as “cheaters.”

Definitions for This Talk

- H-1B: the H-1B work visa program
- green cards: employer-sponsored permanent residency
- American: U.S. citizen or permanent resident (no race of nativity status implied)

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:
 - H-1B expose'
 - support of Affirmative Action
 - defense of accused Asian-American scientists

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:
 - H-1B expose'
 - support of Affirmative Action
 - defense of accused Asian-American scientists
- former statistics prof, current CS prof, former Silicon Valley software developer

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:
 - H-1B expose'
 - support of Affirmative Action
 - defense of accused Asian-American scientists
- former statistics prof, current CS prof, former Silicon Valley software developer
- have nationwide network of "informants," and talk to HR people

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:
 - H-1B expose'
 - support of Affirmative Action
 - defense of accused Asian-American scientists
- former statistics prof, current CS prof, former Silicon Valley software developer
- have nationwide network of "informants," and talk to HR people
- no personal stake in the issue

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:
 - H-1B expose'
 - support of Affirmative Action
 - defense of accused Asian-American scientists
- former statistics prof, current CS prof, former Silicon Valley software developer
- have nationwide network of "informants," and talk to HR people
- no personal stake in the issue
- I know the H-1Bs as people, not as numbers:

Where I'm Coming From Regarding H-1B

- recipient of UCD Distinguished Public Service Award, for:
 - H-1B expose'
 - support of Affirmative Action
 - defense of accused Asian-American scientists
- former statistics prof, current CS prof, former Silicon Valley software developer
- have nationwide network of "informants," and talk to HR people
- no personal stake in the issue
- I know the H-1Bs as people, not as numbers:
 - speak 中文
 - active in Chinese immigrant community
 - know many current and former H-1Bs personally

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don't affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don't affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

- Hunt (2011),¹ Matloff (2003)

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don't affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

- Hunt (2011),¹ Matloff (2003)
- GAO (2011): H-1Bs have more education than Americans, yet earn the same as Americans— so H-1Bs are underpaid

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don't affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

- Hunt (2011),¹ Matloff (2003)
- GAO (2011): H-1Bs have more education than Americans, yet earn the same as Americans— so H-1Bs are underpaid
- “count horse’s teeth by actually looking”: NRC (2001), GAO (2003) employer surveys found many employers admitting to hiring H-1Bs as cheap labor

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don't affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

- Hunt (2011),¹ Matloff (2003)
- GAO (2011): H-1Bs have more education than Americans, yet earn the same as Americans— so H-1Bs are underpaid
- “count horse’s teeth by actually looking”: NRC (2001), GAO (2003) employer surveys found many employers admitting to hiring H-1Bs as cheap labor
- PERM data (next slide)

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don't affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

- Hunt (2011),¹ Matloff (2003)
- GAO (2011): H-1Bs have more education than Americans, yet earn the same as Americans— so H-1Bs are underpaid
- “count horse’s teeth by actually looking”: NRC (2001), GAO (2003) employer surveys found many employers admitting to hiring H-1Bs as cheap labor
- PERM data (next slide)

Badly flawed studies (won’t elaborate here):

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don’t affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

H-1B Is Fundamentally About Cheap Labor

H-1Bs paid less on average:

- Hunt (2011),¹ Matloff (2003)
- GAO (2011): H-1Bs have more education than Americans, yet earn the same as Americans— so H-1Bs are underpaid
- “count horse’s teeth by actually looking”: NRC (2001), GAO (2003) employer surveys found many employers admitting to hiring H-1Bs as cheap labor
- PERM data (next slide)

Badly flawed studies (won’t elaborate here):

- Zavodny (2003) (pro-H-1B)
- Mithas and Lucas (2010) (pro-H-1B)
- Tambe and Hitt (2009) (critical of H-1B)

¹Hunt ascribes the lower wages to language skills rather than to exploitation. However, the Census data show that language skills don’t affect pay in Silicon Valley, also noted qualitatively in Tang (2000).

Abuse Is through Loopholes, NOT Violation of the Law

²Cited the legal “actual wage” as remedy. That’s gameable too, but anyway it won’t matter below.

Abuse Is through Loopholes, NOT Violation of the Law

The legal prevailing wage is well below the market wage.

²Cited the legal “actual wage” as remedy. That’s gameable too, but anyway it won’t matter below.

Abuse Is through Loopholes, NOT Violation of the Law

The legal prevailing wage is well below the market wage.

- Vivek Wadhwa (AEI, 2008): “I know..as a tech CEO that H-1Bs are cheaper than domestic hires...[They] are supposed to be paid a ‘prevailing wage,’ but this mechanism is riddled with loopholes.”

²Cited the legal “actual wage” as remedy. That’s gameable too, but anyway it won’t matter below.

Abuse Is through Loopholes, NOT Violation of the Law

The legal prevailing wage is well below the market wage.

- Vivek Wadhwa (AEI, 2008): “I know..as a tech CEO that H-1Bs are cheaper than domestic hires...[They] are supposed to be paid a ‘prevailing wage,’ but this mechanism is riddled with loopholes.”
- Angelo Paparelli (Changing Face of Immigration conf., 2010): “I agree with you [Matloff] that the legal prevailing wage is lower than the true market wage.”²

²Cited the legal “actual wage” as remedy. That’s gameable too, but anyway it won’t matter below.

Abuse Is through Loopholes, NOT Violation of the Law

The legal prevailing wage is well below the market wage.

- Vivek Wadhwa (AEI, 2008): “I know..as a tech CEO that H-1Bs are cheaper than domestic hires...[They] are supposed to be paid a ‘prevailing wage,’ but this mechanism is riddled with loopholes.”
- Angelo Paparelli (Changing Face of Immigration conf., 2010): “I agree with you [Matloff] that the legal prevailing wage is lower than the true market wage.”²
- GAO 2003 employer survey: “Some employers [paid H-1Bs less than Americans]...[but] these employers said they never paid H-1B workers less than the [legally] required wage.” So, legal wage is below the market wage.

²Cited the legal “actual wage” as remedy. That’s gameable too, but anyway it won’t matter below.

Loopholes (cont'd.)

- Gov. data used to determine prevailing wage do NOT take into account “hot” skill sets, “best and brightest talent,” etc.

Loopholes (cont'd.)

- Gov. data used to determine prevailing wage do NOT take into account “hot” skill sets, “best and brightest talent,” etc. So employer can get above-average foreign worker for less than above-average American

Loopholes (cont'd.)

- Gov. data used to determine prevailing wage do NOT take into account “hot” skill sets, “best and brightest talent,” etc. So employer can get above-average foreign worker for less than above-average American —i.e. underpay the foreign worker.

Loopholes (cont'd.)

- Gov. data used to determine prevailing wage do NOT take into account “hot” skill sets, “best and brightest talent,” etc. So employer can get above-average foreign worker for less than above-average American —i.e. underpay the foreign worker.
- Prevailing wage is determined by the job, not the worker. E.g. “Master’s or Android a plus” means prevailing wage is Bachelor’s level, no Android experience.

Loopholes (cont'd.)

- Gov. data used to determine prevailing wage do NOT take into account “hot” skill sets, “best and brightest talent,” etc. So employer can get above-average foreign worker for less than above-average American —i.e. underpay the foreign worker.
- Prevailing wage is determined by the job, not the worker. E.g. “Master’s or Android a plus” means prevailing wage is Bachelor’s level, no Android experience.
- No one would be surprised to hear that Intel et al use loopholes in the tax code. Immigration code is the same.

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

- industry lobbyists say employers hire H-1Bs because they are especially valuable, e.g.

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

- industry lobbyists say employers hire H-1Bs because they are especially valuable, e.g.
 - rare technological skills
 - “best and brightest”
 - postgraduate degree (Master’s, PhD)

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

- industry lobbyists say employers hire H-1Bs because they are especially valuable, e.g.
 - rare technological skills
 - “best and brightest”
 - postgraduate degree (Master’s, PhD)
- Since they are claimed to be especially valuable, they should be paid much more³ than the legal prevailing wage

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

- industry lobbyists say employers hire H-1Bs because they are especially valuable, e.g.
 - rare technological skills
 - “best and brightest”
 - postgraduate degree (Master’s, PhD)
- Since they are claimed to be especially valuable, they should be paid much more³ than the legal prevailing wage—but they are typically NOT:

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

- industry lobbyists say employers hire H-1Bs because they are especially valuable, e.g.
 - rare technological skills
 - “best and brightest”
 - postgraduate degree (Master’s, PhD)
- Since they are claimed to be especially valuable, they should be paid much more³ than the legal prevailing wage —but they are typically NOT:

group	median wg paid/prevl wg
sw. engineers	1.01
elec. engineers	1.00

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

PERM (Green Card) Data Analysis

- industry lobbyists say employers hire H-1Bs because they are especially valuable, e.g.
 - rare technological skills
 - “best and brightest”
 - postgraduate degree (Master’s, PhD)
- Since they are claimed to be especially valuable, they should be paid much more³ than the legal prevailing wage —but they are typically NOT:

group	median wg paid/prevl wg
sw. engineers	1.01
elec. engineers	1.00
Seyfarth law firm sw. eng.	1.02

³At least 20 or 30% more; see Matloff (2011).

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

PERM Data Implications

PERM Data Implications

- PERM data show that most of the foreign workers are paid at or near the prevailing wage

PERM Data Implications

- PERM data show that most of the foreign workers are paid at or near the prevailing wage—which in turn is lower than the real market wage.
- Thus, most of the foreign workers are underpaid.

PERM Data Implications

- PERM data show that most of the foreign workers are paid at or near the prevailing wage—which in turn is lower than the real market wage.
- Thus, most of the foreign workers are underpaid.
- The PERM data is for green cards.

PERM Data Implications

- PERM data show that most of the foreign workers are paid at or near the prevailing wage—which in turn is lower than the real market wage.
- Thus, most of the foreign workers are underpaid.
- The PERM data is for green cards. The Indian firms don't sponsor for green cards.

PERM Data Implications

- PERM data show that most of the foreign workers are paid at or near the prevailing wage—which in turn is lower than the real market wage.
- Thus, most of the foreign workers are underpaid.
- The PERM data is for green cards. The Indian firms don't sponsor for green cards.
- Thus abuse of H-1B is widespread among mainstream U.S. firms, NOT just the Indian firms.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.
- In essence, portrays mainstream U.S. firms as the Good Guys vs. Indian firms, the Cheaters.

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.
- In essence, portrays mainstream U.S. firms as the Good Guys vs. Indian firms, the Cheaters.
- PERM data show the U.S. firms are NOT Good Guys; they abuse the program too.

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.
- In essence, portrays mainstream U.S. firms as the Good Guys vs. Indian firms, the Cheaters.
- PERM data show the U.S. firms are NOT Good Guys; they abuse the program too. Thus Lofgren bill is wrong in premise, and amounts to scapegoating.

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.
- In essence, portrays mainstream U.S. firms as the Good Guys vs. Indian firms, the Cheaters.
- PERM data show the U.S. firms are NOT Good Guys; they abuse the program too. Thus Lofgren bill is wrong in premise, and amounts to scapegoating.
- Schumer bill, 2010, employed similar scapegoating.

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.
- In essence, portrays mainstream U.S. firms as the Good Guys vs. Indian firms, the Cheaters.
- PERM data show the U.S. firms are NOT Good Guys; they abuse the program too. Thus Lofgren bill is wrong in premise, and amounts to scapegoating.
- Schumer bill, 2010, employed similar scapegoating. Indians and Indian-Americans angry, charge discrimination (Wash. Post, 7/27/10).

Implications for Lofgren Bill etc.

- Lofgren would set up Good Guy, Bad Guy categories.
- In essence, portrays mainstream U.S. firms as the Good Guys vs. Indian firms, the Cheaters.
- PERM data show the U.S. firms are NOT Good Guys; they abuse the program too. Thus Lofgren bill is wrong in premise, and amounts to scapegoating.
- Schumer bill, 2010, employed similar scapegoating. Indians and Indian-Americans angry, charge discrimination (Wash. Post, 7/27/10).
- Worse, these bills don't fix the real problem, the loopholes that allow both U.S. and Indian firms to underpay the H-1Bs.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

- PERM data etc. show H-1Bs paid less than comparable Americans.

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

- PERM data etc. show H-1Bs paid less than comparable Americans.
- But the real wage savings are related to age.

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

- PERM data etc. show H-1Bs paid less than comparable Americans.
- But the real wage savings are related to age. Employers hire young H-1Bs in lieu of older (35+) Americans.

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

- PERM data etc. show H-1Bs paid less than comparable Americans.
- But the real wage savings are related to age. Employers hire young H-1Bs in lieu of older (35+) Americans.
- 2006 data:

group	25th percentile	median	90th percentile
new grads	$45,000	$50,664	$61,500
all workers	$65,070	$82,120	$120,410

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

- PERM data etc. show H-1Bs paid less than comparable Americans.
- But the real wage savings are related to age. Employers hire young H-1Bs in lieu of older (35+) Americans.
- 2006 data:

group	25th percentile	median	90th percentile
new grads	$45,000	$50,664	$61,500
all workers	$65,070	$82,120	$120,410

- No, it is usually NOT because older Americans don't have up-to-date skills.

Age—the Mother of All Loopholes

- PERM data etc. show H-1Bs paid less than comparable Americans.
- But the real wage savings are related to age. Employers hire young H-1Bs in lieu of older (35+) Americans.
- 2006 data:

group	25th percentile	median	90th percentile
new grads	$45,000	$50,664	$61,500
all workers	$65,070	$82,120	$120,410

- No, it is usually NOT because older Americans don't have up-to-date skills. See backup slides for examples of BofA (Americans forced to train H-1B replacements), ITAA (employers don't want to pay market rate for up-to-date skills) etc.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Age Factor (cont'd.)

Age Factor (cont'd.)

- “Shortage” is one of younger—thus cheaper—workers:

Age Factor (cont'd.)

- “Shortage” is one of younger—thus cheaper—workers:
 - “...have to hire college students...[B]ecause it's very expensive to hire only senior talent”—LinkedIn VP, SJ Merc News, 6/28/11

Age Factor (cont'd.)

- “Shortage” is one of younger—thus cheaper—workers:
 - “...have to hire college students...[B]ecause it’s very expensive to hire only senior talent”—LinkedIn VP, SJ Merc News, 6/28/11
 - “Google, Facebook and Microsoft are aggressively recruiting college students...” —USA Today, 4/20/11

Age Factor (cont'd.)

- “Shortage” is one of younger—thus cheaper—workers:
 - “...have to hire college students...[B]ecause it’s very expensive to hire only senior talent” –LinkedIn VP, SJ Merc News, 6/28/11
 - “Google, Facebook and Microsoft are aggressively recruiting college students...” —USA Today, 4/20/11
 - “We’re going for the younger engineers...” —SeaMicro CEO, PBS’s Nightly Bus. Report, 9/6/11

Age Factor (cont'd.)

- “Shortage” is one of younger—thus cheaper—workers:
 - “...have to hire college students...[B]ecause it’s very expensive to hire only senior talent” –LinkedIn VP, SJ Merc News, 6/28/11
 - “Google, Facebook and Microsoft are aggressively recruiting college students...” —USA Today, 4/20/11
 - “We’re going for the younger engineers...” —SeaMicro CEO, PBS’s Nightly Bus. Report, 9/6/11
 - “Microsoft...[Senior VP] David Vaskevitch...acknowledges that the vast majority of Microsoft hires are young, but that is because...there are fewer of [senior] positions” —Vivek Wadha column, 1/15/08

Age Factor (cont'd.)

- “Shortage” is one of younger—thus cheaper—workers:
 - “...have to hire college students...[B]ecause it’s very expensive to hire only senior talent”—LinkedIn VP, SJ Merc News, 6/28/11
 - “Google, Facebook and Microsoft are aggressively recruiting college students...” —USA Today, 4/20/11
 - “We’re going for the younger engineers...” —SeaMicro CEO, PBS’s Nightly Bus. Report, 9/6/11
 - “Microsoft...[Senior VP] David Vaskevitch...acknowledges that the vast majority of Microsoft hires are young, but that is because...there are fewer of [senior] positions” —Vivek Wadha column, 1/15/08
 - “The half-life of an engineer, software or hardware, is only a few years,” former Intel CEO Craig Barrett

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Key Special Case: Foreign Grad Students (MS, PhD) at U.S. Universities

Key Special Case: Foreign Grad Students (MS, PhD) at U.S. Universities

- Mainstream U.S. firms say:

Key Special Case: Foreign Grad Students (MS, PhD) at U.S. Universities

- Mainstream U.S. firms say:
 - “We hire foreign grad students from U.S. campuses, and the Indian firms don’t. So, we don’t abuse the H-1B program (and the Indians do).”

Key Special Case: Foreign Grad Students (MS, PhD) at U.S. Universities

- Mainstream U.S. firms say:
 - “We hire foreign grad students from U.S. campuses, and the Indian firms don’t. So, we don’t abuse the H-1B program (and the Indians do).”
 - “We must hire H-1Bs, because 50% of the engineering doctorates in the U.S. are awarded to foreign students.”

Key Special Case: Foreign Grad Students (MS, PhD) at U.S. Universities

- Mainstream U.S. firms say:
 - “We hire foreign grad students from U.S. campuses, and the Indian firms don’t. So, we don’t abuse the H-1B program (and the Indians do).”
 - “We must hire H-1Bs, because 50% of the engineering doctorates in the U.S. are awarded to foreign students.”
- Hence the many “staple a green card” bills now in Congress.

Key Special Case: Foreign Grad Students (MS, PhD) at U.S. Universities

- Mainstream U.S. firms say:
 - “We hire foreign grad students from U.S. campuses, and the Indian firms don’t. So, we don’t abuse the H-1B program (and the Indians do).”
 - “We must hire H-1Bs, because 50% of the engineering doctorates in the U.S. are awarded to foreign students.”
- Hence the many “staple a green card” bills now in Congress.
- What is the real situation?

Foreign Grad Students (cont'd.)

- No shortage of MS/PhDs.

⁴See earlier footnote.

Foreign Grad Students (cont'd.)

- No shortage of MS/PhDs. E.g. NACE data show MS wages flat (no PhD data available).
- MS/PhD H-1Bs exploited too!

⁴See earlier footnote.

Foreign Grad Students (cont'd.)

- No shortage of MS/PhDs. E.g. NACE data show MS wages flat (no PhD data available).
- MS/PhD H-1Bs exploited too! Hunt (2011) shows that those with U.S. grad degrees earn less than natives.⁴

⁴See earlier footnote.

Foreign Grad Students (cont'd.)

- No shortage of MS/PhDs. E.g. NACE data show MS wages flat (no PhD data available).
- MS/PhD H-1Bs exploited too! Hunt (2011) shows that those with U.S. grad degrees earn less than natives.⁴
- Foreign CS MS/PhD same talent level (awards, patents, R&D) as Americans, NOT greater; Matloff (2011).

⁴See earlier footnote.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign
STEM students at U.S. universities

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

- H-1B's core usage is to foster age discrimination (age 35+).

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

- H-1B's core usage is to foster age discrimination (age 35+).
- Thus “staple a green card” would worsen the age problem, since most of the recipients would be young new grads.

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

- H-1B's core usage is to foster age discrimination (age 35+).
- Thus “staple a green card” would worsen the age problem, since most of the recipients would be young new grads.
- 1989 internal NSF memo recommended “staple”,

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

- H-1B's core usage is to foster age discrimination (age 35+).
- Thus “staple a green card” would worsen the age problem, since most of the recipients would be young new grads.
- 1989 internal NSF memo recommended “staple”, with the express goal of suppressing PhD wage growth.

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

- H-1B's core usage is to foster age discrimination (age 35+).
- Thus “staple a green card” would worsen the age problem, since most of the recipients would be young new grads.
- 1989 internal NSF memo recommended “staple”, with the express goal of suppressing PhD wage growth.
- Worse, the NSF said this would drive the American students away from pursuing a PhD (which it did).

“Staple Green-Card to Their Diplomas” —the Wrong Solution

Many proposals to grant automatic green cards to foreign STEM students at U.S. universities —very destructive.

- H-1B's core usage is to foster age discrimination (age 35+).
- Thus “staple a green card” would worsen the age problem, since most of the recipients would be young new grads.
- 1989 internal NSF memo recommended “staple”, with the express goal of suppressing PhD wage growth.
- Worse, the NSF said this would drive the American students away from pursuing a PhD (which it did).

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Our Internal Brain Drain

Our Internal Brain Drain

- Large foreign worker influx is already causing stagnant wage growth.

Our Internal Brain Drain

- Large foreign worker influx is already causing stagnant wage growth.
- “Why hasn’t the growth of high-tech wages kept up?...Foreign students are an important part of the story”—Prof. Clair Brown, UCB

Our Internal Brain Drain

- Large foreign worker influx is already causing stagnant wage growth.
- “Why hasn’t the growth of high-tech wages kept up?...Foreign students are an important part of the story”—Prof. Clair Brown, UCB
- The stagnant wages are driving our own “best and brightest” away from STEM, to more lucrative fields—finance, MBA, law, medicine.

Our Internal Brain Drain

- Large foreign worker influx is already causing stagnant wage growth.
- “Why hasn’t the growth of high-tech wages kept up?...Foreign students are an important part of the story”—Prof. Clair Brown, UCB
- The stagnant wages are driving our own “best and brightest” away from STEM, to more lucrative fields—finance, MBA, law, medicine. This is an internal brain drain.

Our Internal Brain Drain

- Large foreign worker influx is already causing stagnant wage growth.
- “Why hasn’t the growth of high-tech wages kept up?...Foreign students are an important part of the story”—Prof. Clair Brown, UCB
- The stagnant wages are driving our own “best and brightest” away from STEM, to more lucrative fields—finance, MBA, law, medicine. This is an internal brain drain.
- “A young person who is good at math would be crazy to pursue a STEM career”—Tony Carnevale, Georgetown University, 2011

Our Internal Brain Drain

- Large foreign worker influx is already causing stagnant wage growth.
- “Why hasn’t the growth of high-tech wages kept up?...Foreign students are an important part of the story”—Prof. Clair Brown, UCB
- The stagnant wages are driving our own “best and brightest” away from STEM, to more lucrative fields—finance, MBA, law, medicine. This is an internal brain drain.
- “A young person who is good at math would be crazy to pursue a STEM career”—Tony Carnevale, Georgetown University, 2011
- “Between 2003 and 2006 the percentage of graduates from MIT going into financial services rose...to almost 25%...Financial firms offer considerably higher pay, better career prospects and insulation against off-shoring...” —Forbes Mag., 4/13/11.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

- Don't scapegoat!

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

- Don't scapegoat!
- Major priority: Fix the loopholes in prevailing wage.

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

- Don't scapegoat!
- Major priority: Fix the loopholes in prevailing wage.
- AFL-CIO DPE proposes setting prevailing wage at 75th percentile—reflecting claimed “especially valuable” nature of the H-1Bs.

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

- Don't scapegoat!
- Major priority: Fix the loopholes in prevailing wage.
- AFL-CIO DPE proposes setting prevailing wage at 75th percentile—reflecting claimed “especially valuable” nature of the H-1Bs. I support this.

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

- Don't scapegoat!
- Major priority: Fix the loopholes in prevailing wage.
- AFL-CIO DPE proposes setting prevailing wage at 75th percentile—reflecting claimed “especially valuable” nature of the H-1Bs. I support this. (Durbin/Grassley bill similar, but not as good.)

What Should—and Should NOT—Be Done

- Don't scapegoat!
- Major priority: Fix the loopholes in prevailing wage.
- AFL-CIO DPE proposes setting prevailing wage at 75th percentile—reflecting claimed “especially valuable” nature of the H-1Bs. I support this. (Durbin/Grassley bill similar, but not as good.)
- My proposal: Instead of “staple a green card,” grant automatic green card to any “best and brightest” foreign worker—one with U.S. job offer at 90th percentile.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

- industry (CompeteAmerica, many others)

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

- industry (CompeteAmerica, many others)
- AILA (immigration lawyers)

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

- industry (CompeteAmerica, many others)
- AILA (immigration lawyers)
- NAFSA (university foreign student advisers); plus universities in general

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

- industry (CompeteAmerica, many others)
- AILA (immigration lawyers)
- NAFSA (university foreign student advisers); plus universities in general
- “There were, in fact, a whole lot of folks against [the H-1B increase], but because they are tapping the high-tech community for campaign contributions, they don’t want to admit that in public” —Sen. Robert Bennett, SF Chronicle, 10/4/2000

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

- industry (CompeteAmerica, many others)
- AILA (immigration lawyers)
- NAFSA (university foreign student advisers); plus universities in general
- “There were, in fact, a whole lot of folks against [the H-1B increase], but because they are tapping the high-tech community for campaign contributions, they don’t want to admit that in public”—Sen. Robert Bennett, SF Chronicle, 10/4/2000
- “This [H-1B increase] is not a popular bill with the public. It’s popular with the CEOs...This is a very important issue for the high-tech executives who give the money”—Rep. Tom Davis, NY Daily News, 5/3/2000

But Will Genuine Reform Occur?

Looks dim; too many powerful lobbying groups:

- industry (CompeteAmerica, many others)
- AILA (immigration lawyers)
- NAFSA (university foreign student advisers); plus universities in general
- “There were, in fact, a whole lot of folks against [the H-1B increase], but because they are tapping the high-tech community for campaign contributions, they don’t want to admit that in public”—Sen. Robert Bennett, SF Chronicle, 10/4/2000
- “This [H-1B increase] is not a popular bill with the public. It’s popular with the CEOs...This is a very important issue for the high-tech executives who give the money”—Rep. Tom Davis, NY Daily News, 5/3/2000

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Slides Went by Too Quickly?

Slides Went by Too Quickly?

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Slides available at

<http://heather.cs.ucdavis.edu/UCB2011Slides.pdf>.

Slides Went by Too Quickly?

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Slides available at

<http://heather.cs.ucdavis.edu/UCB2011Slides.pdf>.

Futher topics in backup slides, after this one.

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Skill Sets

Skill Sets

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06.

Skill Sets

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06. So who has the skills, the Americans or the H-1Bs?

Skill Sets

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06. So who has the skills, the Americans or the H-1Bs?
- Easy to learn new skills, informally, on the job.

Skill Sets

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06. So who has the skills, the Americans or the H-1Bs?
- Easy to learn new skills, informally, on the job.
- Where do those new grads learn those “latest” skills that old workers allegedly don’t have?

Skill Sets

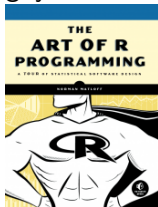

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06. So who has the skills, the Americans or the H-1Bs?
- Easy to learn new skills, informally, on the job.
- Where do those new grads learn those “latest” skills that old workers allegedly don’t have? They learn from old guys like me!

Skill Sets

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

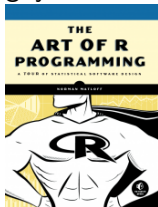

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06. So who has the skills, the Americans or the H-1Bs?
- Easy to learn new skills, informally, on the job.
- Where do those new grads learn those “latest” skills that old workers allegedly don’t have? They learn from old guys like me!

Skill Sets

Is it a matter of older people not having up-to-date skills? NO.

- Training their H-1B replacements. See e.g. “BofA: Train your replacement, or no severance pay for you,” SF Chronicle, 6/9/06. So who has the skills, the Americans or the H-1Bs?
- Easy to learn new skills, informally, on the job.
- Where do those new grads learn those “latest” skills that old workers allegedly don’t have? They learn from old guys like me!

- If the H-1Bs do have the “hot” skills, why aren’t they paid above average?

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

Skill Sets Case Study

Skill Sets Case Study

ITAA (industry trade group) report calling for higher H-1B cap,
1997:

Skill Sets Case Study

ITAA (industry trade group) report calling for higher H-1B cap, 1997:

Training employees [in new IT skills]...creates other issues. "You take a $45,000 asset, spend some time and money training him, and suddenly he's turned into an $80,000 asset," says Mary Kay Cosmetics CIO Trey Bradley." ...[The newly-upgraded workers] become highly marketable individuals and, therefore, are attractive to other employers.

So it's not a skills issue; it's a money issue. Ms. Bradley doesn't want to pay that $80K.

There Is No Tech Labor Shortage

- Wadhwa studies (e.g. asking HR about hiring bonuses)
- Dice.com, 2011: tech wages up only 1% in 2010
- SJ Merc News, 2011: Silicon Valley wages up only 3% since 2009
- NACE, 2011: wages for new CS grads up only 3% from last year
- Carnevale, 2011: engineering wages rising the slowest of any group
- House testimony by TI, 2011: there ARE enough students who get Bachelor's degrees in engineering

H-1B Reform:
Fix the Real
Problems,
Instead of
Scapegoating
the Indians

Norm Matloff
University of
California at
Davis

“They’ll Go Home to Compete with Us!”

“They’ll Go Home to Compete with Us!”

We should keep the top foreign talents, not the mediocre ones.

“They’ll Go Home to Compete with Us!”

We should keep the top foreign talents, not the mediocre ones. Research by UCB professor Saxenian shows that even if they stay, they still help companies back home compete with us (through consulting, investment, etc.).

“They’ll Go Home to Compete with Us!”

We should keep the top foreign talents, not the mediocre ones. Research by UCB professor Saxenian shows that even if they stay, they still help companies back home compete with us (through consulting, investment, etc.). We should make sure we do NOT have an internal brain drain, which H-1B is causing.